Report on Workshop: "Construction & Validation of Data Gathering Tool & Analysis & Interpretation of Data" (Online Mode on Zoom App)

Date: July 21st to 24th, 2021

Venue: Biyani Girls B.Ed. College

Speaker: Dr. Sampark Acharya, (Assistant Professor, Rajasthan Shikshan Parsikshan Mahavidyalaya Jaipur)

Program Details:

Day 1: July 21st, 2021 - Construction of Likert Scale, Item Analysis, and Reliability and Validity

- The workshop commenced with an in-depth session on constructing Likert scales, focusing on the appropriate design and implementation of these measurement tools.

- Participants engaged in learning about item analysis techniques to evaluate the effectiveness and appropriateness of survey questions.

- Discussions on reliability and validity were held, emphasizing the importance of ensuring the consistency and accuracy of data gathered through various research instruments.

Day 2: July 22nd, 2021 - Sample Selection Technique

- Participants delved into the intricacies of sample selection techniques, exploring various methods to ensure representative and unbiased samples for research studies.

- The session provided insights into sampling strategies, including random sampling, stratified sampling, and convenience sampling, among others.

Day 3: July 23rd, 2021 - Construction and Validation of Interview Schedule

- The focus shifted to the construction and validation of interview schedules, with participants learning the process of developing structured interview protocols.
- Practical guidelines were provided for ensuring the reliability and validity of interview instruments, along with strategies for conducting effective interviews.

Day 4: July 24th, 2021 - Chi-square Analysis

- The workshop concluded with a comprehensive session on Chi-square analysis, a statistical technique used to assess the association between categorical variables.
- Participants gained an understanding of the principles and applications of Chi-square tests, including contingency table analysis and interpretation of results.

Conclusion:

The workshop on "Construction & Validation of Data Gathering Tool & Analysis & Interpretation of Data" provided participants with valuable insights and practical skills essential for conducting robust research studies. Through interactive sessions and hands-on activities, participants gained proficiency in designing research instruments, selecting appropriate sampling techniques, and analysing research data effectively. Dr. Sampark Acharya's expertise and guidance contributed significantly to the success of the workshop, equipping participants with the necessary tools and knowledge to enhance their research endeavours.

Report on FDP Teaching skill enhancement and research orientation

Date: September 1st to 2nd, 2021

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed. College

Objective:

Introduction:

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Teaching Skill Enhancement and Research Orientation, conducted from September 1st to 2nd, 2021, aimed to provide faculty members with valuable insights and strategies to enhance their teaching skills and research orientation. The program, coordinated by Dr. Shipra Gupta, witnessed active participation from faculty members across various departments and disciplines.

Day 1:

The first day of the FDP began with an inaugural session, where Dr. Shipra Gupta welcomed the participants and outlined the objectives and agenda of the program. The sessions on the first day focused on enhancing teaching skills through innovative pedagogical techniques. Expert speakers shared their experiences and best practices for effective classroom management, student engagement, and assessment strategies. The sessions were interactive, allowing participants to exchange ideas and learn from each other's experiences.

Day 2:

On the second day of the FDP, the focus shifted towards research orientation and methodologies. Sessions were conducted on understanding the importance of research in academic development, exploring various research methodologies, and promoting interdisciplinary collaboration. The expert speakers provided valuable insights into the research process, including literature review, data collection, analysis, and publication strategies. Participants were encouraged to actively participate in discussions and workshops to apply the concepts learned to their own research endeavors.

Conclusion:

The Faculty Development Program on Teaching Skill Enhancement and Research Orientation, coordinated by Dr. Shipra Gupta, was a resounding success. The program provided a platform for faculty members to enhance their teaching skills, gain insights into research methodologies, and foster interdisciplinary collaboration. The interactive sessions, led by expert speakers, enriched the learning experience and facilitated knowledge sharing among participants. We extend our gratitude to Dr. Shipra Gupta and all the speakers for their valuable contributions to making this FDP a success.

Report on FDP for Non-teaching staff: Fundamentals of accounting including tally and Erp with grade-1

Date: August 17th, 2021

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed. College

Objective:

Program Overview:

A Fundamental Development Program (FDP) focusing on the basics of accounting, tally, and ERP was organized for the non-teaching staff of Biyani College. The program aimed to equip the participants with essential accounting skills, enabling them to understand financial processes better, operate Tally software efficiently, and familiarize themselves with Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems. The initiative was coordinated by Dr. Ranjana Pareek, who ensured comprehensive coverage of the subject matter and effective delivery of the sessions.

Objectives:

1. To provide a foundational understanding of accounting principles and practices.
2. To train participants in the practical application of Tally software for efficient financial management.
3. To introduce participants to ERP systems and their relevance in organizational operations.
4. To enhance the overall skill set of non-teaching staff, enabling them to contribute effectively to administrative functions.

Program Structure:

The FDP was structured into several modules covering different aspects of accounting, Tally, and ERP. Each module comprised theoretical sessions followed by practical demonstrations and hands-on exercises to reinforce learning. The program included the following key components:

Principal
Biyani Girls B.Ed. College
Jaipur

BIYANI GIRLS B.ED. COLLEGE, JAIPUR

- 1. Introduction to Accounting Principles: Basic concepts such as double-entry bookkeeping, principles of debit and credit, financial statements, etc., were elucidated to establish a strong foundation in accounting.
- 2. Tally Training: Participants received comprehensive training in Tally software, including data entry, ledger management, inventory management, and generating various financial reports. Practical exercises were conducted to familiarize participants with the software interface and functionalities.
- 3. ERP Overview: The program provided an overview of ERP systems, emphasizing their role in integrating and streamlining organizational processes across departments. Participants learned about modules such as finance, human resources, supply chain management, etc., and their interconnectedness within an ERP framework.
- 4. Practical Application: Real-world scenarios and case studies were presented to illustrate the practical application of accounting principles, Tally operations, and ERP usage in organizational settings. Participants were encouraged to actively engage in problem-solving exercises to enhance their understanding.

Program Coordination:

Dr. Ranjana Pareek, as the program coordinator, played a pivotal role in ensuring the success of the FDP. Her expertise in accounting and educational leadership facilitated the seamless organization and execution of the program. Dr. Pareek demonstrated exemplary dedication in designing the curriculum, selecting relevant instructional materials, and overseeing the delivery of sessions by subject matter experts.

16th India-Japan Virtual International Conference

December 14-18, 2021 | 09:00 AM - 4:00 PM (IST)

About THE CONFERENCE:

COVID-19 pandemic has been instrumental in disrupting the lives in rich and poor countries alike impacting economy, society and polity. Students in higher education have faced unprecedented challenges due to severe resource and capacity constraints at the beginning and in continuity of this outbreak.

The nations are at the healing phase and striving to analyze the new possibilities, implementing the latest technologies and combating the constraints imposed on nations, institutions, and individuals related to resources and technologies. Education technology interventions post crisis can support development of better systems while mitigating the impact on students and learning. The need is to implement the initiatives which may be factored into planning, particularly during the coping and recovery phases.

OBJECTIVE OF THE CONFERENCE :

The objective of BICON-2021, virtual conference, is to facilitate a conglomeration of academicians, scientists, research scholars and industry experts and provide a platform to share new ideas and knowledge about the current developments in their respective fields, post COVID-19, specially in higher education.

Furthermore, the conference will help the budding researchers to seek newer ideas and opportunity to improve their work through constructive discussions at the international level.

Report on FDP on Faculty Induction and Refresher Program on Research Methodology and Teaching Pedagogy

Date: January 07th to 08th 2022

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed. College

Objective:

Introduction:

The Faculty Induction and Refresher Program on Research Methodology and Teaching Pedagogy at Biyani College commenced with great enthusiasm and participation from both new and experienced faculty members. The program aimed to provide essential training and updates on research methodologies and effective teaching pedagogies to enhance the quality of education imparted at the college.

Day 1:

The program began with an inaugural speech by Dr. Sanjay Biyani, the esteemed founder of Biyani College. Dr. Biyani highlighted the importance of continuous learning and professional development in the field of education. He emphasized the role of faculty members in shaping the future of students and encouraged them to stay updated with the latest advancements in research and teaching methodologies. Following Dr. Biyani's speech, five guest faculty members conducted sessions on various topics related to research methodology and teaching pedagogy. They covered areas such as research design, data collection techniques, innovative teaching methods, and classroom management strategies. The sessions were interactive, allowing participants to engage in discussions and hands-on activities to enhance their understanding.

Day 2:

On the second day of the program, three guest faculty members continued the sessions, focusing on advanced topics in research methodology and teaching pedagogy. They addressed specific challenges faced by faculty members in their respective disciplines and provided practical solutions and best practices. The sessions also included workshops and demonstrations to help participants apply the concepts learned in their own teaching and research endeavours.

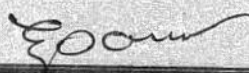

Conclusion:

The Faculty Induction and Refresher Program on Research Methodology and Teaching Pedagogy at Biyani College, coordinated by Dr. Bharti Sharma, was a resounding success. The program provided valuable insights and training to both new and experienced faculty members, empowering them to excel in their roles as educators and researchers. The interactive sessions, led by experienced guest faculty members, enriched the learning experience and facilitated knowledge sharing among participants. We extend our gratitude to all the speakers, participants, and organizers for their contributions to making this program a success.

Report of Five-Day Faculty Development Program (FDP) on "How to Publish Review Papers in UGC Recognized Journals"

Dates: February 15th to February 19th, 2022

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed College

Presenter: Prof. P.N. Mishra, Professor of Management

Objective:

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) aimed to equip faculty members with the necessary knowledge and skills to publish review papers in UGC (University Grants Commission) recognized journals. Prof. P.N. Mishra, an expert in management, led the program, providing participants with insights into the review paper publication process.

Key Highlights:

1. Introduction to Review Papers: The FDP commenced with an introduction to the concept and significance of review papers in academic research. Prof. P.N. Mishra elucidated the characteristics of review papers and their role in synthesizing existing literature, identifying research gaps, and contributing to knowledge advancement.

2. Understanding UGC Guidelines: The presenter provided an overview of the UGC guidelines for publishing in recognized journals, emphasizing the criteria and parameters for determining the quality and credibility of research publications. Participants gained insights into the importance of adhering to UGC guidelines for enhancing the visibility and impact of their review papers.

3. Literature Review Strategies: Prof. Mishra shared strategies and best practices for conducting comprehensive literature reviews, including effective search strategies, critical analysis of existing literature, and synthesis of key findings.

Participants learned how to identify relevant research articles, conceptual frameworks, and theoretical perspectives to inform their review papers.

4. Writing and Structuring Review Papers:

The FDP included sessions on writing and structuring review papers, covering aspects such as title selection, abstract writing, introduction, methodology (if applicable), literature synthesis, discussion, and conclusion. Prof. P.N. Mishra provided practical tips and guidelines for crafting well-organized and coherent review manuscripts.

5. Navigating the Publication Process:

Participants received guidance on navigating the publication process, from selecting suitable journals to manuscript submission, peer review, revisions, and final publication. Prof. Mishra shared insights into effective communication with journal editors, responding to reviewers' comments, and addressing revision requests.

6. Interactive Workshops and Discussions:

The FDP featured interactive workshops, group discussions, and hands-on activities, allowing participants to apply the concepts and strategies learned during the sessions. Prof. P.N. Mishra facilitated engaging discussions and provided personalized feedback to participants on their review paper projects.

Conclusion:

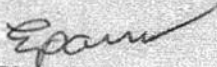

The five-day Faculty Development Program on "How to Publish Review Papers in UGC Recognized Journals" led by Prof. P.N. Mishra was a resounding success, providing participants with valuable insights and practical guidance on the review paper publication process. The program equipped faculty members with the knowledge and skills necessary to produce high-quality review papers and contribute to the scholarly discourse in their respective fields.

Acknowledgment: We extend our sincere gratitude to Prof. P.N. Mishra for his exemplary leadership and expertise in conducting the FDP. Special thanks to all participants for their active participation and enthusiastic engagement throughout the program.

Future Initiatives: Biyani Girls B.Ed College remains committed to organizing more such capacity-building initiatives and professional development programs to support the academic growth and research excellence of its faculty members.

THE CONTEXT

Methods of Measuring and Interpretation of Outcomes in Educational and Social Research

Abstract:

Facts become knowledge, when it is used in the successful completion of a decision process. In research massive amount of facts are integrated as knowledge. Usefulness and utility of research outcomes lies in proper interpretation. Thus interpretation is a basic component of research. It is a device through which the factors that seen to explain what has been observed by researcher in the course of study can be better understood.

In present scenario it has been found that the quality of research output has been far from the much needed standards. The quality of research depends on the understanding of the research problem and the output. It is significantly based on the appropriate research tool and its interpretation.

So, Biyani Girls B.Ed. College takes the initiative to organize a national workshop on "Methods of Measuring and Interpretation of Outcomes in Educational and Social Research".

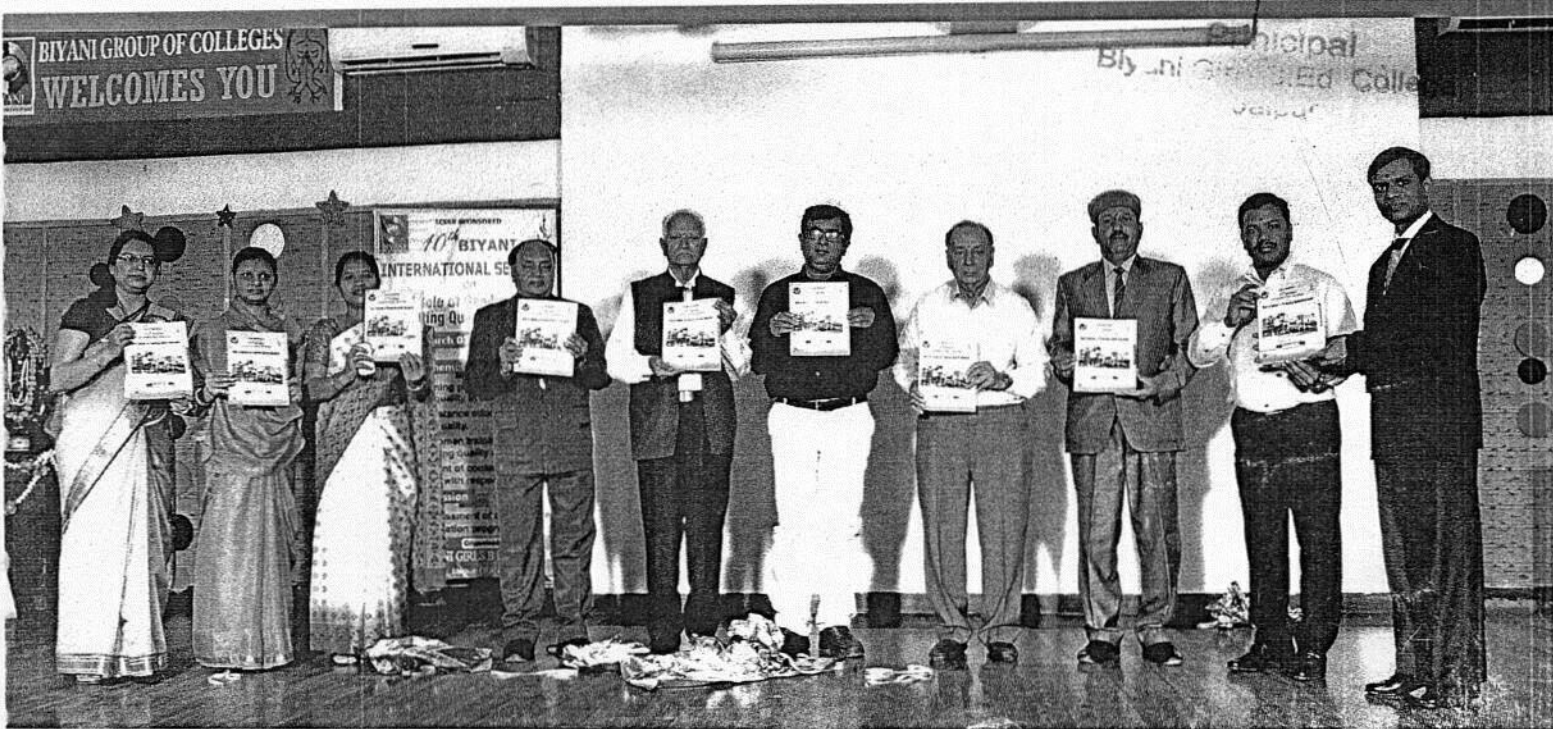

OBJECTIVES

1. To understand the different types of tool to collect data in research.
2. To understand the value of tools, their place in research and way to prepare their interpretation and results.
3. To understand the construction of standardize and non-standardize tool.
4. To provide Training of preparing standardize tool.
5. To develop analytical skills.
6. To develop the capacity of finding out validity and reliability.

SUBTHEMES

- Concept and ethics of developing a research tool.
- Introduction of different types of data collection instruments.
- Process of construction of standardized tools: validity, reliability, objectivity, item analysis.
- Interpretation of different parametric and non-parametric statistics and their importance in research.
- Scientific management styles of referencing.
- Measurement of Errors in Education Research.

Report: Day 1 of ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar on "Methods of Measuring and Interpretation of Outcomes in Educational and Social Research"

Date: April 14th, 2022

Venue: Biyani Girls B.Ed College

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed College

Objective:

The ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar aimed to provide a platform for researchers and academicians to discuss various methods of measuring and interpreting outcomes in educational and social research. The seminar aimed to enhance understanding and proficiency in research methodologies and their application in educational and social contexts.

Key Highlights:

1. Opening Remarks: The seminar commenced with opening remarks by Prof. Manish Biyani, the Research Director of Biyani Girls B.Ed College. Prof. Biyani welcomed all the participants and emphasized the significance of the seminar in advancing research in the field of education and social sciences.

2. Chief Guest Address: Prof. PC Trivedi, Former Vice-Chancellor of JNVU Jodhpur, graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. Prof. Trivedi shared his insights on the importance of research in addressing contemporary challenges in education and society. He encouraged researchers to adopt rigorous methodologies for obtaining reliable outcomes.

3. Invited Lectures:

- Dr. Harjeet Kaur Bhatiya: Dr. Bhatiya delivered a lecture on innovative methods of measuring educational outcomes, focusing on the use of technology and data analytics in educational research.

- Dr. Devika Agarwal: Dr. Agarwal shared her expertise on qualitative research methodologies and their relevance in understanding social phenomena and human behavior.

- Dr. Deepak Kumar Gupta: Dr. Gupta discussed statistical methods for interpreting research outcomes, emphasizing the importance of data analysis and interpretation in drawing meaningful conclusions.

4. Panel Discussion: A panel discussion followed the invited lectures, where participants had the opportunity to engage with the speakers and discuss various aspects of research methodologies, measurement techniques, and interpretation of research outcomes.

5. Interactive Sessions: Throughout the day, interactive sessions were conducted to facilitate discussions among participants, allowing them to share their experiences, insights, and challenges related to research in educational and social sciences.

Conclusion:

Day 1 of the ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar on "Methods of Measuring and Interpretation of Outcomes in Educational and Social Research" was a productive and enlightening session. The presentations, discussions, and interactions provided valuable insights into research methodologies and their application in educational and social contexts.

Acknowledgment:

We extend our gratitude to all the speakers, participants, and organizers for their contributions to making Day 1 of the seminar a success. Special thanks to Prof. Manish Biyani and Prof. PC Trivedi for their leadership and support in organizing the seminar.

Report: Day 2 of ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar on "Methods of Measuring and Interpretation of Outcomes in Educational and Social Research"

Date: April 15th, 2022

Venue: Utsav Auditorium

Organizer: Biyani Girls B.Ed College

Objective:

The second day of the ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar continued the discussion on various methods of measuring and interpreting outcomes in educational and social research. The focus was on exploring innovative approaches and strategies for conducting research and analyzing data in the field of education and social sciences.

Key Highlights:

- 1. Presentation on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav: The day commenced with a presentation on Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, celebrating 75 years of India's independence. The presentation highlighted the significance of this milestone and its implications for education and social development.
- 2. Guest Lecture by Dr. Deepak Kumar Gupta: Dr. Deepak Kumar Gupta, a data analyst and CEO of CDART Pvt. Ltd., delivered a guest lecture on the role of data analytics in educational and social research. He discussed various data analysis techniques and their application in deriving meaningful insights from research data.
- 3. Presentation by Prof. Anjali Sharma: Prof. Anjali Sharma, HOD of a Central University in Kishangarh, shared her expertise on innovative research methodologies in educational research. She discussed emerging trends and best practices in conducting research studies in the field of education.
- 4. Contribution from Dr. Sampark Acharya: Dr. Sampark Acharya from Rajasthan Shikshak Mahavidyalaya presented his insights on the challenges and opportunities in interpreting research outcomes in the context of social sciences.

He discussed the importance of contextually relevant interpretations for effective decision-making.

5. Closing Remarks by Principal Dr. Ekta Pareek: The seminar concluded with closing remarks by Principal Dr. Ekta Pareek. She expressed her gratitude to the speakers, participants, and organizers for their contributions to the seminar. Dr. Pareek emphasized the importance of continuing discussions and collaborations in advancing research in education and social sciences.

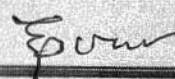

Conclusion: Day 2 of the ICSSR Sponsored National Seminar provided a platform for insightful discussions and knowledge sharing on research methodologies in education and social sciences. The presentations and lectures by esteemed speakers enriched the understanding of participants and contributed to the advancement of research practices.

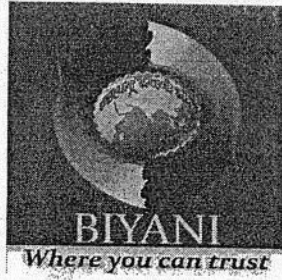

Acknowledgment: We extend our heartfelt thanks to all the speakers, participants, and organizers for their active involvement and valuable contributions to the seminar. Special appreciation to Dr. Ekta Pareek for her leadership and guidance throughout the event.

Report on Online session on Bloom Taxonomy

Date: May 23, 2022

Venue: Biyani Girls B.Ed. College, Jaipur

Introduction:

On May 23, 2022, Biyani Girls BEd College organized an online session on Bloom's Taxonomy, aiming to enhance the understanding of teaching and learning strategies among students and faculty members. Bloom's Taxonomy is a hierarchical framework used to classify educational objectives into cognitive domains, providing educators with a structured approach to curriculum design and assessment.

Session Highlights:

1. Introduction to Bloom's Taxonomy: The session began with an introduction to Bloom's Taxonomy, explaining its origins, components, and significance in education. Participants learned about the three domains of learning: cognitive, affective, and psychomotor, and how Bloom's Taxonomy categorizes cognitive processes into six levels: remembering, understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating, and creating.
2. Application in Teaching and Learning: The facilitator discussed how educators can apply Bloom's Taxonomy to design effective teaching and learning activities that cater to different levels of cognitive complexity. Participants explored examples of instructional strategies aligned with each level of Bloom's Taxonomy, such as lectures for remembering, case studies for analyzing, and projects for creating.

progress across different cognitive domains. The facilitator emphasized the importance of using a variety of assessment methods, such as quizzes, essays, and performance tasks, to ensure comprehensive evaluation.

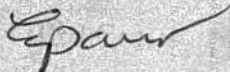

4. Integration into Curriculum Planning: Participants discussed the integration of Bloom's Taxonomy into curriculum planning and instructional design. They explored how to align learning objectives with Bloom's Taxonomy levels, sequence instructional activities to scaffold learning, and adapt teaching strategies to meet diverse student needs.

Conclusion:

The online session on Bloom's Taxonomy at Biyani Girls BEd College provided valuable insights into the application of this pedagogical framework in teaching and learning. Participants gained a deeper understanding of how Bloom's Taxonomy can inform curriculum design, instructional practices, and assessment strategies, enhancing the quality of education delivery. The session underscored the college's commitment to fostering innovative and effective teaching practices among its faculty and students.
