The conference was opened by Dr. Rajiv Biyani (Chairman), Dr. Sanjay Biyani (Director, Academics), BICON convener Dr. Neha Pandey (Principal, Biyani Girls College), conveners of the day Dr. Ekta Pareek, and Dr. Ajit Kumar Jain, along with all dignitaries. The Saraswati Vandana and lighting of the lamp in front of "MaaSaraswati served as the program's opening ceremonies.

Mr. Murari Lal Sharma, Deputy Commissioner SMS and Rajasthan School Education Council, Jaipur, served as the program's chief guest. Dr. B.L. Jain, Registrar, Jain VishwaBharati Institute, Nagaur, served as the program's main guest. Prof. Manish Biyani congratulated the visitors thereafter and suggested that we make reforms to our educational system, society, and curricula. A stunning demonstration of yoga by the yoga students followed this. Following this, Mr. Murari Lal Sharma, the principal visitor, gave his opinion. He used the CD of the snake as an example. According to him, students start to get irresponsible once they reach the college level, therefore at this point you should lead a life of austerity and take steps to achieve your goals. He advised us to be more cautious when approaching achievement.

Professor B.L. Jain then shared his opinions. He used the example of a flute to emphasise that we should think about national difficulties in the area of education and that the flute was made of wood. However, it is our responsibility to give it life and turn the unseen into apparent. We should all be happy that just 20% of individuals have a grasp of the national education policy, according to him. We should learn things online and give information on academic and curricular choice, bared credit systems, etc. in innovation. We must embrace innovation and address the issues we face. Additionally, he discussed how values changed under the institution's director.

The difficulty of the new education policy was discussed by Dr. Dinesh Chahal, professor, department of education, school of education, Central University Haryana, Mahendragarh, Haryana. He spoke with the pupils. He declared that kids should receive higher education, but only the best education. Dr. Rajesh Kumar Academic and India Foundation talked at Technical Session IV about how education may help close the gap between society and business. He asserted that educators could use technology.

Following this, Professor Manish Biyani discussed the success of this seminar. Following that, the institution's students performed a collective dance for those present. The institution's director, Dr. Sanjay Biyani, thanked all the visitors, students, researchers, and lecturers in this
